

My Eden

Lyrics: ann kathrin lüthi

The penalty area lies in front of you
You're drawing back but you get pushed in
Your sensory nerves redeem the sin
It's much too late to know what you do
You're killing the doubt
It wears you out
You smile like a clown
It gets you down down down

Roads don't lead into Eden just out of it
But when I am with you it feels like I have returned there a bit

Pour oil in the fire you're teasing the lion
And again you make my day
Just before hope fades from little to nothing
You ease the pain you ease the pain
You're killing the doubt
It wears you out
You smile like a clown
It gets you down down down

I have not enough breath to digest what you say
I must be deaf but it feels okay
'cause you've just declared love
Without saying a word
You're killing the doubt
It wears you out
You smile like a clown
It gets you down down down
