

Part of Mine

By Ann Kathrin Lüthi

You draw a plan in pale letters
To wipe it out paint white on white
Conscience has left for that matter
You forgive yourself another time

You are on a hell ride with the truth
Till you decide to let it die
What is born instead is nothing new
You have turned into a liar

Survey the watcher find the seeker
Chance a dance with the demon
Survey the watcher find the seeker
Chance a dance with the demon

You are the killer of my time
You know well how to seduce me
You cannot tell wrong from right
You love to live in secrecy

We are both walking off the line
Will it dawn on you at last
You are a fucking part of mine
Dry your tears and raise the glass

Survey the watcher find the seeker
Chance a dance with the demon
Survey the watcher find the seeker
Chance a dance with the demon

You draw your circles around me
You lust for your opportunity
You're an intrigue

Survey the watcher find the seeker
Chance a dance with the demon
Stay forever mark the start
Leave me with your Icarus heart
Survey the watcher find the seeker
Chance a dance with the demon
Stay forever mark the start
Leave me with your Icarus heart
