

Playing Dead

Lyrics by Ann Kathrin Lüthi

I am playing dead
While the fragments of my song
Are waving in the air
As if they would leave me forever

I open up as wide as the sky
Reaches out to embrace the blue
I gather the hooks that I sunk in your side
When I walked alongside you

I am reaching out to touch the void
Where tremendous dreams go missing
I try to mend what got destroyed
With a beat and a melody kissing

Meandering downhill
I am running with the rain
I have just swallowed the bitterest pill
That wasn't against the pain

I am playing dead I am playing dead
No more flailing no more
