

Speed & Spine

Lyrics by Ann Kathrin Lüthi

The stone broke your speed and your spine
Down to zero both of you went
'Immortal' got crossed out in your mind
It wasn't the rock that easily bent

You're surrounded by freedom for a short moment
While your body reaches out for air
You risk drowning in your torment
But then you realize that you're still there and that

You're not going anywhere
No, you're not going anywhere
You are chasing phantoms in the air

Nothing feels right at that point
You can't find comfort in my words
We're fighting to mend what's out of joint
In the frontline is where you get hurt

This was too much my sweetest friend
You blew us all away you blew us all away
Again we have all time to spend
But it will never be the same

No, it will never be the same
It will never be the same
You are chasing phantoms in the air

The stone broke your speed and your spine
Down to zero both of you went
'Immortal' got crossed out in your mind
It wasn't the rock that easily bent

But even if your soul lies bare
You are not going anywhere
You are chasing phantoms in the air
