

Take me Back

Lyrics by Annakin

Take me back to where it all began
And the damage can be made undone
Back to where your words didn't have that sting
Take me to the place where you feel something

Take me back to where you're out of my chest
Where the ghost and the jailor are at rest
You are the tears that I'm crying
Take me to the place where you feel something

You are the uninvited guest
The thief of my heart I need to arrest
Everything is at stake
For goodness sake

Nothing more will ever be enough

So please take me back . . .

Take me back to where I'm not burning sore
Your heart is empty at the core
You're the thoughts that are lingering
Take me to the place where you feel something

You are the uninvited guest . . .

You are the jigsaw and the test
The obstacle and the hidden catch
Everything is at stake
For goodness sake

Nothing more will ever be enough