

Before Love Disappears

Come whisper a secret
Into my ear
Hold my hand and pulverize
My paralyzing fears

Let me be part
Never fence me out
Be careful with my heart
It's the only one i've got

And i will shed some light into my blind spot
To see what is there and what is not
Come hell or high water

There is no more escape
No one else at stake
My own hazards are closer than they appear
Fixing piece by piece
Remembering relief
It could be poison it could be the remedy

Take me aside
When i am close to tears
Everything is full of light
Before love disappears

There is no escape
Everything's at stake
My own hazards are closer than they appear
Fixing piece by piece
Remembering relief
It could be poison it could be the remedy
