

Dancing Sky

This is the beginning
Of a start
No loss only winnings
The sun is inside my heart

The signs have been slumbering
Inside my chest
I didn't recognize the guests
Among the modesty of my king

Where have you been
My sweetest friend
I haven't seen you for so long
Where have you been
My sweetest friend
I missed you so

You lighten up
In the dancing sky
Blow away the ashes
Analyze the morsing fire flies

The signs have been slumbering
Inside my chest
I didn't recognize the best
Among the modesty of my king

No more solitude but substitutes for these ghosts
We walk and then we run we kiss the sun to find home stumbling

In the dancing sky
