

The Love the Love

Time divides us like a scar
That tears the skin apart
I send my love out to your heart

There's no necessity and there's no need
To sink down on my knees
But to see how deep I can fall

And I try not to blink at all

The love the love the love the love the love the love
The love my love the love you love the love the love

My home town is not how
I should remember it right now
It's like a song that got caught by the wind

It's the echo in the trees it is you and it's me
It's the longing to see you
It's a whole lot of love the love the love

It's not the time for in-betweens
Save protection shelters me
Nothing is how it used to be
