

Hero

104 bpm

by Annakin

When nothing makes no sense at all
And it is a one way street you roam
When everything is happening way too fast
Just let the damn day pass

When the past is lingering a bit too long
And it slows you down in what you wanna become
When all memories feel like broken glass
Just let the damn day pass because

You are a hero
You have no fear no
You have no tears to roll down your face
Can I hold you let me hold you
To close the space

When your ideas land in a footnote
And some find it funny but you don't
When you fly your flag at half-mast
Just let the day pass

When there is nothing wrong
When there is nothing wrong
But you think there is
Just let the damn day pass because

You are a hero
You have no fear no
You are a hero
You have no fear
